We look forward to a discussion on the capacity of the MTW program for innovation and reform. Our MTW approaches echo the administration's thinking in areas like rent reform, where the administration's stated goal "is increasing local control and choice". MTW already does this and we hope to reach agreement on our initiatives and approach – thanks

Good morning –

Thank you for your response to our comments on MPHA's FY18 MTW Plan. We appreciate the thoroughness of the response and your commitment to finding local solutions to benefit the residents of Minneapolis.

We will be in touch shortly to discuss how to move forward.

Best,

Marianne

Hello, Marianne. Attached please find MPHA's letter responding to each comment, along with redline and blackline plan versions as requested (along with two supporting documents related to one activity, which we reference in the letter).

We understand you are traveling until February 20, and look forward to hearing from you after you return.

Regards,

Jeff
